

DEATH TOLL OF MINE DISASTER IS 93

TRIBUNAL ISSUE IS BACK BEFORE SENATE

ATTACK UPON COURT IS LED BY SHIPSTEAD

Minnesota Senator Seeks Government Correspondence on Issue

RESERVATIONS GROW

Senator McKinley, Illinois, Says Adherence Would Benefit U. S.

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—With no apparent lessening in its controversial intensity, the world court issue is back on the Senate floor for a week's stay at least, until displaced temporarily by the tax reduction bill. As the newest development, the Senate has before it a resolution by Senator Shipstead, Farmer Labor, Minnesota, requesting the state department to supply copies of all correspondence between government departments and the league of nations regarding American adherence to the court. Another Shipstead resolution would direct the foreign relations committee to index and abstract for the Senate all state department correspondence concerning the court.

Sensor Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, has added to the growing group of proposed reservations with which this country would enter the tribunal. The Overman stipulation would prevent the court from considering without consent of this government purely domestic questions such as immigration, territorial integrity of the several states and any alleged foreign obligations of any of them and the Monroe Doctrine.

Sensor Shipstead resumed debate on the court Wednesday with a prepared address against American participation. Senators McKinley, Illinois, and McLean, Connecticut, Republicans, following him on the affirmative side of the question.

The Minnesota senator declared the eastern hemisphere has been reduced to an "economic-political lull" and that this country would be forced into it by joining the court. American adherence should be permitted, he said, only if "you are willing to see the whittling process applied to our untrammelled and unaffected liberty of action and freedom from external commitments."

Sensor McKinley asserted that an economic advantage would result from American adherence and that no "right thinking men" of the Republican party intended to force this country into the league of nations.

The court was pictured by Senator McLean as the meeting place for all nations seeking world peace, with participation in it bringing the United States no nearer to the league than it is now.

FRANCE AND ITALY COVERED WITH SNOW

Paris.—(AP)—Both France and Italy are suffering from severe cold waves. Central and northern Italy and southward as far as Naples are blanketed with snow. In France the mercury dropped abruptly from 60 degrees Fahrenheit to zero and below at some points. Snow also is falling at various places.

Where floods last week were raging, the water has been converted into frozen swamps over which is howling a bitter easterly gale. The lowest temperature recorded is at Briancon where five degrees below zero was registered. The thermometer Thursday morning stood only just above zero in Touraine and Burgundy. Central France and Even the sunny south, are affected.

A heavy fall of snow is ravaging the flower raising country around Nice and Cannes, doing damage estimated at millions of francs.

Violent storms are raging in the Mediterranean which are playing havoc to shipping.

ABANDON ATTEMPTS TO RELEASE CAR FERRY

Mantoloking.—(AP)—No progress had been made at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in releasing the big car ferry Pere Marquette No. 13, hard aground nine miles south of this port. Efforts to release the craft were abandoned at midnight and steps will be taken to lighten the boat Thursday. It is believed the big ferry struck a rock and is badly damaged. The boat will be docked as soon as it is released and brought to port.

APPOINT GUARD FOR MARY AND DOUG WHO FEAR FURTHER HARM

Hollywood, Calif.—(AP)—An armed guard has been appointed for Mary Pickford, the film actress and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks. "There have been no developments, threats or plots that we know of," Fairbanks said Wednesday, "but Mary and I have decided that we are the target for all the nuts who come to Los Angeles."

The guard formerly was county jailer in Los Angeles.

VILLAGE PEOPLE CAPTURE YEGGS

Attempt to Rob Bank at Hadley, Mich., Is Frustrated by Residents

Lapeer, Mich.—(AP)—Four men who attempted the robbery late Wednesday of the bank at Hadley a town of 300 population near here, are in the county jail Thursday, three of them nursing gunshot wounds and all of them contemplating on the active way in which residents of Hadley protected their money deposited in the Hadley bank.

The robbers drove into Hadley shortly before the bank closed and three entered the bank while another waited outside in an automobile with the motor running. After pulling the shades of the bank, the trio bound E. H. Potter, cashier and Newman Barber, former cashier and blind, and demanded to know where the money was stored.

Potter refused to answer and he was tortured by one of the robbers who jabbed a jackknife into his leg. Meanwhile the other two gathered up nearly $4,000 in currency.

Outside the bank, B. F. Hadley, manager of the telephone exchange, his wife and Mrs. Pius Hadley, postmistress, noticed the shades drawn at the bank and notified all of the businessmen.

When the armed residents appeared, the driver of the robbers car sped away.

When the three robbers appeared with their loot and opened fire the trio were shot and captured.

MAY REQUIRE YEARS TO SETTLE M'CLINTOCK WILL

Chicago.—(AP)—Ten years of litigation may be necessary before the $1,000,000 estate of William Nelson McClinton, millionaire orphan, will be of actual benefit to William Darling Shepherd, his foster father and principal heir, or the eight cousins seeking to break his will.

And a decade of legal fighting with a score of attorneys involved and costs accumulating through the courts, may make the $1,000,000 estate hardly worth struggling for court attacks point out.

Shepherd's victory Wednesday when Judge Kichham Scanlan in circuit court ordered the will admitted to probate without passing on the issue of undue influence was only the start of the court fighting.

First, Attorney Orville Taylor, representing the objecting cousins will appeal to the state supreme court from Judge Scanlan's ruling. If the appeal is unsuccessful, the relatives will file a bill in a court of chancery charging Shepherd used undue influence to induce young McClinton to sign the will, which Shepherd, a lawyer, drew up himself.

Which ever side loses in the chancery suit is sure to appeal to the appellate court. From there petitions may be directed to the supreme court, both sides appear determined to use every legal means at their disposal.

RUDY AND MAE PLAY SISTER-BROTHER ACT

New York.—(AP)—Mae Murray and Rudolph Valentino are just "little sister" and "big brother" to one another and are not planning to marry when Rudolph's wife gets the divorce now pending in Paris, Miss Murray asserted when she arrived from abroad on the Majestic.

The screen siren some time ago said she wanted a domestic wife, so Miss Murray, whose name has been linked with his in unconfirmed reports was asked about that too, but her reply was:

"I prefer to have some one prepare my bacon and eggs of a morning for me."

WOULD LOWER SCHOOL TAXES IN DISTRICTS

Callahan Recommends Change of State Law on School Taxation

Madison.—(AP)—Sweeping modification of the state laws pertaining to school taxation was recommended here Thursday before the legislative interim committee investigating taxation and consolidation of governmental bureaus, by John Callahan, state superintendent of Public Instruction.

Instead of the local communities paying virtually all of costs of supporting high school districts, Mr. Callahan proposes that the laws be changed to require the state to pay 30 per cent of the cost; the county, 40 per cent and the local community, 30 per cent. Under the present system the state pays less than 1 per cent of the cost and the community the remainder.

FLETCHER ADDRESSES MEETING

Mr. Callahan's proposal was made before the full legislative committee consisting of chairman Max Heck, Racine; Senator J. B. Chase, Oconto; H. E. Boldt, Sheboygan Falls; and Assemblymen Thomas Duncan, Milwaukee; Clinton Price, Mauston; George B. Schmidt, Arcadia; and Frank E. Lawson, Walworth. It was presented to the committee a short time before Orin T. Fletcher, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation, Bangor, made a dramatic appeal to the committee to recommend legislation that will relieve the Wisconsin farmer of an unjust burden of school taxation.

Rural support of high school districts per subscriber sometimes amounts to more than the income of individual farm, it was stated.

Mr. Fletcher declared the farmers of the state were now down on their knees praying to state relief on school and other taxes. He said the farm subscribers to high school districts were forced to pay ruinous sums in taxes to support buildings having up-to-date swimming pools and gymnasiums, when farm boys and girls attending these schools can get plenty of recreation and exercise on the farms.

FROWN ON PUBLICITY OF INCOME TAX RETURNS

Washington D. C.—(AP)—Discontinuation of publicity of income tax returns was approved Thursday by the Senate finance committee in accepting this provision in the house tax bill.

No record vote on the proposal was taken by the committee. Chairman announced sentiment was almost unanimous for the action. Senator Simmons, North Carolina, announced he would ask the Senator to set the date for a vote on the bill for early in February.

Such a proposal, if accepted, would assure tax reduction by March 15, when first income installments are due.

CLARK PAINTINGS BRING ALMOST HALF MILLION

New York.—Almost half a million dollars was realized from the sale of objects of art and paintings of the Fifth-ave. mansion of the late William A. Clark, former Senator from Montana.

Seattle, Wash.—(AP)—Paid for by Great Northern Railroad employees of Superior, Wis., a bronze bust of James J. Hill, railway and empire builder, was completed in a foundry here Wednesday. It is to be installed in a city park in Superior to mark the eastern terminus of the Great Northern main line.

The bust was cast from the Hill bust which stands on the University of Washington campus here.

Report Is Completed On Internal Revenue Bureau

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1926, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—A sigh of relief was breathed Wednesday as the contents of the report on conditions in the Bureau of Internal Revenue were made available by Senator Couzens of Michigan, who has been making an investigation of its affairs.

Many big corporations have been on the anxious seat, wondering just how far the report would go in disclosing details of their businesses. Some of them have also been worried because they thought the Couzens report might in some way compel the Bureau of Internal Revenue to reopen cases, especially settlements that had been regarded as closed.

Now that the report is available, the question is what effect will it have. Obviously publication of the report was delayed, so that it would be taken into consideration in the framing of the tax bill but in this the Michigan senator has to some extent been outmaneuvered because the administration agreed upon and such time as relative parts of the tax law have already mains between now and March 1 will be taken up in a controversy over rates.

It rears entirely with the treasury department itself, whether cases will be reopened in the light of criticism made in the Couzens report. The treasury has defended its action repeatedly and it is unlikely that anything in the Couzens report will cause it to swerve from the course pursued.

The only recourse which the Michigan senator has is congressional action and there the pressure for passage of a tax bill in time to get reductions on the next payment, March 15, is such that any disclosure will hardly change the situation very much.

Mr. Couzens's committee seemed to object most particularly to the policy of the treasury in bargaining with large taxpayers in the making of settlements. There is room for a difference of opinion on this policy. Treasury officials, for instance, frankly concede that they would rather go ahead with every case and fight it out in the courts to establish what sums should be paid but that the need for revenue is such that they would either rather have a specified sum now than take a chance on length litigation, loss of records, departure of witnesses and all the other hazards connected with protracted court procedure.

There is no doubt that the unfortunate personal quarrel between the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mellon, and the Michigan senator has prevented a dispassionate appraisal of the inquiry conducted by the Couzens committee. Congress, on the other hand, is in a mood to listen to any sensational testimony that can be developed and Mr. Couzens is a resourceful fighter. The proceedings of the Couzens committee will not result in any vital changes in the administrative sections of the new law though they will influence the Treasury Department in making new regulations. So far as affecting past settlements, the chances are against it. The Treasury will not reopen a case unless it is convinced a fraud has been perpetrated. Most of the criticisms against the Treasury has been in the nature of differences of opinion on matters of judgment and discretion.

EARLY ACTION PREDICTED ON TAX MEASURE

Democrats Will Press Passage at Expense of Fight for Reduction

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—United action in the senate apparently is assured for passage of the revenue bill so that its tax reduction provisions can be applicable by March 15 when first income tax installments are due.

In reply to a suggestion from national Democratic party leaders that Senate Democrats press for early action even at the expense of success of their substitute program for increased reduction, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee has agreed not to permit the substitute to stand in the way of prompt passage of the bill.

The senator, who conferred Wednesday with Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, declared, however, he would propose amendments to the bill in the senate to increase the reduction to $500,000,000 or $170,000,000 more than provided by the house bill.

"I believe the sanity of the Democratic program for further reduction," he said, "will appeal to the common sense of the Senate. I expect favorable action but no long fight. Senate Republican leaders have declared they will seek early passage of the bill and substantially as drawn up by the house."

The finance committee, however, which still has the measure under consideration, devoted Thursday to hearing representatives of the special committee which investigated the International Revenue bureau and which has requested several administrative amendments. Completion of the measure by the end of the week was predicted.

LATEST ENTERPRISE OF PONZI NEAR END

Boston, Mass.—(AP)—A warrant for the arrest of Calceonio Aliviti, Boston representative of Charles Ponzi, former get-rich-quick financier now engaged in a Florida real estate enterprise, was issued by Judge Creed in municipal court Thursday. It charges violation of the Blue Sky law.

Application was made for a warrant as a result of an investigation carried on Wednesday by Attorney General Jay R. Benton, into the activities of the Charpon Land Syndicate, the Ponzi real estate project.

The specific charge against Aliviti is selling securities without being registered in the state as a broker or a salesman as required by statute.

The local branch of the Ponzi syndicate advertised a probable profit of 200 per cent in 60 days.

TWO KILLED, ANOTHER HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Coffeyville, Kas.—(AP)—The engineer and fireman were instantly killed and the conductor was probably fatally injured Thursday when the Missouri Pacific "radio special" eastbound, was derailed 16 miles north of Coffeyville.

MINE WORKERS ASSEMBLE FOR WAGE PARLEY

Will Hear Report on New York Conference and Discuss Relief Measures

Hazleton, Pa.—(AP)—National and district officials and local leaders from every section of the anthracite fields were here Thursday to attend a meeting of the United Mine Workers' scale committee which will consider the strike situation. Many idle miners also came to learn what action the committee would take.

The committee meets under the chairmanship of John L. Lewis, also president of the miners union. "The scale committee was created by a convention of the anthracite miners last July and is empowered to negotiate wage contracts subject to ratification of another convention."

The sub-committee of the scale committee will make a detailed report of its unsuccessful negotiations with the operators in New York.

Other matters relating to the strike, such as the work of relief for needy miners and their families, will be taken up.

Miners here say they do not take seriously reports that some operators will attempt to start up their mines. Operators generally have denied knowledge of any such intention.

Failure of the New York conference has caused alarm among charity workers who have been hard put to care for destitute miners, especially in the smaller towns. In Scranton heads of relief organizations estimated the number of appeals from needy families at 500 a day.

In some quarters a general exodus from the mining field is expected unless peace is restored soon.

CONTINUE PROBE OF ALUMINUM COMPANY

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—None of the original evidence against the Aluminum Company of America, gathered by the federal trade commission, has been obtained by the Department of Justice in its investigation of that company. J. E. Dunn, a special agent of the department, said Thursday, before the Senate judiciary committee, the inquiry to determine whether this company, in which Secretary Mellon is a large stockholder, had violated federal court decrees, Dunn went to the trade commission, he said, but merely made notes of copies of documents in which the commission had consented to turn over to the department.

He then went into the field and interviewed complaints, and with their consent examined the files of their correspondence.

CONDITION OF CARDINAL IS LESS SATISFACTORY

Brussels.—(AP)—Cardinal Mercier's condition, following his recent operation, was less satisfactory Thursday. A disquieting weakness persists, although the aged prelate is able to take no nourishment.

UNEARTH LARGEST ILLICIT STILL IN OLD OKLAHOMA MINE

Picher, Okla.—(AP)—An elaborate distillery, declared by federal prohibition agents to be probably the largest illicit whiskey making plant seized since prohibition went into effect was found by federal agents in an abandoned mine here Wednesday. The distillery covered two levels of the mine, within four blocks of the center of the town.

Unusual features of the liquor making plant included four wooden vats, each filled to a capacity of 10,000 gallons of mash; four 1,000 gallon copper stills; pipe connections between the vats and the stills, electrical pumps on the lower level, which forced the finished product into a cooling tank on the upper one.

A secret connection with the city water line; a connection with an electric power line under a fictitious name; a secret entrance through a private garage to the mine shaft where an electrical hoist was used in reaching the mine chambers.

HEAD OF CULT

Charles Garland, eccentric Massachusetts millionaire, who was arrested on a statutory charge at April Farm, alleged free love colony near Allentown, Pa. The arrest followed the death of a baby at the farm. It was charged the child had received no medical attention.

LOVE COLONIST IS ECCENTRIC

Inherited and Gave Away Two Fortunes to American Fund

Allentown, Pa.—(AP)—The eccentricities of Charles Garland, promoter of "April Farm," an alleged free love colony, were further revealed Thursday with the information that he has inherited and given away a second fortune within recent years.

A member of the colony, who requested that his name not be used, told about it. Garland started the colony in 1920 when he refused to accept a $1,000,000 legacy left by his father. Later, however, he accepted the inheritance and gave it to the American fund for public service.

The second legacy of $500,000, the "April Farm" member said came to Garland through his grandfather's estate.

Garland at once placed this in the trusteeship of the American fund for trustee service which concerns itself with individuals who have proven their qualifications for a career but who lack funds.

Reporters were unable to reach Garland for confirmation of the story.

OSHKOSH WOMAN NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

Oshkosh, Wis.—(AP)—The jury in the case of the state vs Mrs. Phoebe Kramer, charged with killing her husband, Louis Kramer, while he lay asleep out outside of his cottage on the lake shore north of the city, brought in a verdict Wednesday evening finding the defendant not guilty of first degree murder. The jury was out but about four hours. There was but one count on which the state sought to secure conviction, namely first degree murder. The defense based its case on the grounds of self defense or justifiable homicide, much evidence being introduced to prove that Mrs. Kramer had been cruelly beaten shortly before she shot him in the head with a shotgun and that he had threatened to kill her and her four children. The defendant and other told pathetic stories of years of abuse, poverty and beatings Mrs. Kramer had undergone during her married life.

FORMER GREEK KING MAY LIVE IN FLORIDA

Tarpon Springs, Fla.—(AP)—Reports that King George, deposed monarch of Greece, may make his future home in Florida, have stirred the imagination of the Greek colony of sponge fishers here.

George Emmanuel, wealthy real estate operator, heads a committee that has purchased a tract of land and plans to offer it to the former ruler if he will agree to settle here among his people. An invitation has been mailed to Bucharest and members of the colony plan to present the deed for the property when the former king arrives in New York.

6 BODIES ARE BROUGHT FROM BLAZING HOLE

Eight Negroes and One White Man Are Rescued Alive by Workers

OPERATORS TO BLAME

Order Restrained Union Miners from Joining in Rescue Efforts

Wilburton, Okla.—(AP)—Cool McKinney, white, one of the miners entombed by the explosion in Degan-McConnell Mine No. 21 near here early Wednesday, was rescued Thursday morning.

McKinney is the first survivor to come out of the lower levels of the mine.

McKinney said he had crawled in the mine passage over dead bodies for 23 hours. He was in a state of nervous exhaustion when rescue workers brought him to the surface. His clothing was water-soaked and his face covered with soot. A physician called from the throng about the mouth of the mine said he would recover in a short time.

"I crawled and crawled after the explosion in utter darkness," McKinney chattered between clenched teeth as he was almost carried to the shower room. "There are 35 dead bodies in entry 16, east, where I was working at the time the explosion occurred."

Wilburton, Okla.—(AP)—Eighty-seven miners lay dead in the blazing Degan-McConnell mine here Thursday while scores of rescue workers stood at the mouth of the shaft helpless in the face of the flames which broke out early Thursday morning. Six bodies have been brought out raising the death toll to 83. Mine officials Wednesday night abandoned all hope of finding any of the trapped miners alive.

A terrific explosion wrecked the lower levels of the mine Wednesday shortly after 101 white and negro miners were at work.

ORDER PREVENTS HELP
Wilburton, Okla.—(AP)—A federal court injunction issued last October prevented union miners from joining in the rescue efforts at the Degan-McConnell mine Wednesday where 83 workmen lost their lives in an explosion. A restraining order from Judge R. L. Williams forbids union miners refusing to work under the 1917 wage agreement from coming on company property.

miners descended the shaft to start their daily toil. Of these only eight negroes were brought out alive.

Responsibility for the disaster was placed squarely on the mine operators by Ed Boyle, state mine inspector after an investigation. Boyle declared that in his opinion the explosion was due to the employing of incompetent miners. He said he believed the explosion was from gas collected in one or more passages in the mine and that competent inspectors could have found evidence of the gas before the five score men went to work Wednesday morning.

A report from Superintendent Powers of the mine stated five losses had inspected the mine at 6 o'clock in the morning, two hours before the miners went down to work.

At midnight six bodies had been brought to the surface. The Wilburton fire department proved inadequate in coping with the flames 1,800 feet under the ground as its combined hose reached only 1,000 feet. The McAlester fire department has started here with 2,500 feet of hose to the mine.

Bodies of the men brought to the surface indicated that they had been burned to death.

RECORD CROWD HAS BIG LAUGH WITH HUMORIST

Douglas Malloch Tells 500 Men and Women That World Needs Average Man

The largest crowd that ever gathered at an Appleton banquet constituted the audience that heard Douglas Malloch internationally known poet-humorist-philosopher, in his third public appearance in this city Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce retail division dinner given at the First Methodist church.

Mr. Malloch was in good form Wednesday night. He radiated humor from the moment of his introduction to his closing words, and it was impossible to resist it. His flow of wit was so profuse that it resembled a continuous shrapnel fire under which the stoniest of stone faces gave way. The theme of his address was "The Average Man," and to judge from the volume of applause, the banquet room was literally crammed with average men.

500 HEAR SPEAKER.
Fully 500 persons, men and women heard the distinguished speaker whose wit and poetry are syndicated and read the world over. Two dinners were in progress at the same time, both under the auspices of the chamber of commerce. In addition to the retail division dinner, another was served in another part of the church to the veteran employees of Appleton industries. Afterward both sections joined to hear Mr. Malloch.

Walter Joyce, chairman of the retail division, presided and acted as toastmaster. A talk by J. D. Steele, head of the Pettibone-Peabody company preceded the principal address.

Mr. Steele purposely kept aloof from his announced subject. The Business Outlook for 1926, which he feared would expand and lengthen the program, but devoted his remarks to a brief analysis of the retail trade, bringing in a number of humorous anecdotes to illustrate the subject.

Mr. Malloch, following his introduction by Mr. Joyce, took the liberty to banter the toastmaster. "The way he struggled through the introduction," he said laughingly, "made me think that I must be as hard to introduce in Appleton as prohibition."

Refusing to indulge in the custom of saying a lot of complimentary things about "the large and intelligent audience," for which he saw no need, even though, as he said, "some of you are a little larger than others," the speaker launched out almost immediately into the body of his address. He let loose a barrage of satire to show that the great American public is not so intelligent as one is accustomed to think. He cast one broadside after another ridiculing bolshevism, jazz, the flapper and the child-ridden American parents.

"KIDS" THE WOMEN.
Speaking of The Average Man, the humorist explained that he did not dare include The Average Woman for there is no such thing, every woman being "just a little above the average."

Mr. Malloch squeezed the law of averages to produce a rich fund of statistical jokes. Every ninth person is supposed to have a savings account, he quoted, but he was sure this was not true for he had tried to borrow money from ten straight men.

Eight men will die suddenly to one woman dying suddenly, he continued, and this is proof that it is quite impossible to hurry a woman.

In Iowa every fourth person owns an automobile, and the other three probably each own two.

There is a telephone for every eighth person in the United States or at least there would be if the other seven were not continually on the line.

Admitting that he was not a man with a "message" and not laying claim to being a reformer for, he said, being from Illinois, he was hardly in a position to suggest a reform, he ventured to speak of The Average Man in a kindly tone for "there are so many of them."

"It takes all kinds of people to make up the world," he declared. "And there must be somebody at the wheel who will get a shave in a lady barber shop. Why give all the publicity to the 'self-made man' instead of the ordinary garden variety mill run man? It is easy enough to be a genius, for one is born that way."

ABOUT MEMORIES

He confessed an inclination to be suspicious of the much touted "model" man, and cited as one reason the incident in which he went to hear a memory expert speak. The expert failed to show up for he had forgotten all about the engagement. "He was like the man," he com-

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by keeping up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

ASPHALT PAVING COST REDUCED

New "Interlocking" Process May Be Adopted if Taxpayers Desire

Property owners who choose asphalt surfacing for streets which are to be paved next summer will be able to save an average of 25 cents a square yard on the cost if they decide to use a new process known as the interlocking bituminous method. Specification which are being prepared by R. M. Connelly, city engineer, make this type optional.

Any street thus paved will have virtually a combination of vitrolithic concrete and asphalt, giving the benefits of the strength and endurance produced by this cementing method and the advantage of the asphalt top, which is considered nice in appearance, less noisy and less conducive to summer heat.

The principal difference between this asphalt pavement and the old is the absence of the binder of coarse stone and asphalt mixture applied between the concrete and the fine top dressing. The concrete base is given treatment by vibratory machines. Narrow planks set a few inches apart are used for the tamping. The boards bury themselves into the mixture. The impression they leave remains when the boards are taken up, and these troughs a few inches apart produce a ribbed surface. The fine asphalt mixture can be applied right on this corrugated surface and holds

NEED MORAL SUPPORT TO ENFORCE DRY LAW

Dividing the forces working for prohibition into two factors, the rise of a Christian conscience, and necessity because of the present structure of our civilization, Dr. H. E. Peabody analyzed the prohibition question before the Lawrence student body in chapel assembly Tuesday.

"The prohibition officers cannot enforce the law unless the good people of the community stand back of them," he declared. "What we need in the matter of prohibition is a new infusion of moral energy, which always comes through faith in God and love for the Supreme Master."

Dr. Peabody denounced the militaristic spirit in enforcing prohibition and reviewing the moral slump which has resulted in much lax enforcement, he outlined the means which all may use to strengthen the prohibition enforcement policy.

EGG PRICES DROP AS MERCURY GOES HIGHER

Eggs dropped in price this week and will continue to do so if the weather remains mild, but if there is another drop in temperature they will probably go back to 50 cents a dozen or more. Wholesale prices now are about 37 cents, and retail price is around 42 cents, although varying from 40 to 45 cents in different stores satisfactorily. The ribs prevent the mass from shifting, which would happen if there were no binder.

30,000 POUNDS OF ROUGH FISH TAKEN FROM LAKE

State Trying to Clear Lake
Winneconne of Lawyers,
Carp and Suckers

Efforts of the state of free Lake Winneconne of rough fish such as carp, lawyers and suckers, are progressing rapidly, according to William H. Zuehlke, president of the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective Association. A crew of men has been working on the project for the last three weeks with the result that 30,000 pounds have been netted from the Winneconne waters so far. The rough fish are destroyers of the game fish in the lake, especially the perch and small pickers. The lawyers devour the pickers and some of the rough fish have been found to contain game fish a foot in length when they were opened.

The remainder of January, all of February and part of March will be devoted to the work. Mr. Zuehlke said. The sucker and carp are good eating fish in winter and these are being sold at the lake to people from Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha and surrounding territory. The lawyers sell at a cent a pound, the suckers at 5 cents and the carp at 3 cents. Appleton residents desiring to purchase the fish have been requested to apply to the wardens at the Wolf river house at Winneconne. All of the supply not sold will be dumped into nearby swamps by the state. Senator Merritt White of Winneconne put through the special bill to remove the rough fish from the lake last year because of their destruction of the game fish.

GET FEW ORDERS FOR LAND CLEARING PYRATOL

Orders for shipments of Pyratol, war explosive used for land clearing, are coming in very slowly at the county agricultural agent's office at the courthouse. This office is again handling the orders this year with a view of having a carload shipped in next April. Thus far less than a half dozen orders have been received. If enough orders are made to make up a carload, the car will be shipped either to Black Creek or to Galesburg. Only 1,000 pounds per person are allowed by the state department in charge of pyratol shipments.

Jobless Men Seek Night's Rest In Police Station

Either the lumber camps up north are not operating to capacity or the state is overrun by "hoboes," judging from the complaints of jobless strangers who apply nightly at the police station for lodging.

Although no such lodgers were entertained at the station Tuesday evening, other evenings find the cells

PHYSICAL DIRECTORS WILL MEET IN MADISON

A. P. Jensen, Y. M. C. A. physical director, probably will attend the meeting of the Wisconsin State Y. M. C. A. Physical Directors society at Madison, Jan. 22 and 23. The program as it is now planned will include visits to the University of Wisconsin physical educational department, and business and conference sessions about the state work.

Semi-annual meetings of the society are held to discuss Y. M. C. A. physical education problems, allotments of tournaments for state towns in various sports, such as basketball, volleyball and swimming and methods of improving and standardizing the work.

taxed to capacity. At times there are not enough beds for all, and the "Weary Willies" content themselves with sleeping on the floor. Even on this hard bed they find greater comfort than sleeping in some barn or empty freight car.

The strangers apparently travel in groups. That accounts for the fact that on some cold nights there is not a single lodger while on milder nights the station is filled. The hobo as a rule never visits the same station twice, but they usually "put up their tent" in the town they hit at dusk. Christmas eve found seven of the clan quartered here, Dec. 23 there were six, Dec. 29 four, Dec. 30 seven and Jan. 11 three. None of them are of the oldtime professional tramp type, but are all jobless men who are actually looking for jobs.

Miss Esther Schaumann of the town of Harrison has been spending a few days with her uncle, P. M. Nagreen.

TUTTRUP ADDED TO TUTTLE BOARD

Purdy Succeeds E. N. Smith
as Manager of Tuttle Press
Co.

All officers were reelected at the annual meeting of stockholders of Tuttle Press company in the offices of the company Wednesday morning and R. H. Purdy was made general manager.

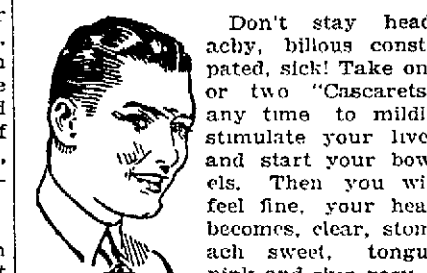

The officers are A. F. Tuttle, president; A. B. Weissenborn, vice president; G. E. Buchanan, secretary; R. H. Purdy, treasurer and general manager. Mr. Purdy succeeds E. N. Smith who is now representing the company's interest on the Pacific coast. H. V. Tuttrup was elected a member of the board of directors to succeed Mr. Smith.

All the stockholders were at the meeting either in person or by proxy, thus showing a 100 per cent representation of stock.

Finances were found to be in a favorable condition and plans are being made for expansion. On Tuesday the company began operating a new crepe paper making machine, which is the largest machine in the plant. It will greatly increase the efficiency and speed up the production. The designing was done by W. D. Legge, superintendent, and it was built in the company's own plant.

OFFERS CHICKS TO PUPILS WITH HIGH MARKINGS

M. H. Hoffman, proprietor of the Blue Ortolan Ringlet Plymouth Rock poultry yards, 1619 N. Oneida-st., has arranged with A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, to arouse interest in purebred poultry raising by offering a prize to eighth grade pupils of the county.

The boy and girl who have the best standings in the final examinations will each receive either a setting of eggs or 10 chicks, in addition to a year's subscription to the International Plymouth Rock journal. The only condition attached is that the boy and girl raise the chicks to be exhibited later at the 1926 poultry show of the Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association.

If the birds fail to win a ribbon at the poultry show, Mr. Hoffman guarantees to pay the entry fees. The show will be held either in December, 1926, or January, 1927.

The breed is of parents which won a prize at the poultry show held at the Coliseum in Chicago in 1924, and has a 296 egg record.

Fewer Taxpayers, More Revenue, Tax Paradox

Fewer taxpayers but just as much in taxes. That is the truth brought home to the office of Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer. The decrease in the number of taxpayers is due to the fact that the state legislature last year raised the exemption on married persons and for children and dependents. Where formerly married persons were allowed an exemption of $1,200 for themselves and $200 for their children, they are now allowed a personal exemption of $1,600 and $300 for each child or dependent.

The result of this provision in the law has been to take off about 700 income taxpayers off the city's tax roll. This year Mr. Bachman's books show 3,069 receipts, and last year the number was 3,762. While some of these 700 persons will continue to pay real estate and personal property taxes, others who do not own either a home or an automobile will pay no taxes at all.

But what the city loses in income taxpayers, it wins in amount of taxes. Owing to the repeal of the personal property tax offset, more taxes will be collected. In spite of the reapportionment, whereby the city gets only 50 per cent instead of 75 per cent, as formerly, the city will receive more tax money. The state also receives considerably more by taking 40 per cent instead of 10 per cent of the taxes.

INSURANCE AGENTS AT OSHKOSH MEETING

George R. Wettengel, Fred F. Wettengel, and John Trautmann, local agents for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. were in Oshkosh Tuesday to attend a meeting of central Wisconsin agents of the company. The meeting was held in the Athearn hotel, and was arranged by D. N. Cameron, general agent of the company. Principal speakers on the afternoon program were Henry F. Tyrell, Milwaukee, legislative counsel for the company, and Charles H. Parsons, Milwaukee, superintendent of agencies. A banquet was held in the evening. About 60 representatives from the central Wisconsin agency were present.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma, or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

their friends—especially their friends—are not conducive to social prominence.

The nurse does her work unheralded and unsung. Yet the well walk the streets of the city, take up their work where they left it, run for office, organize community drives, go back to church and straightway forget the minister of mercy, robed in white, who dragged them back from the edge of the grave.

"She was a wonderful nurse. I can't remember her name, but she saved my life." So runs the record, because she was faithful to her work and the world—at least the well world—is in a hurry.

The theologians may disagree but it seems probable that when the nurse stands before the Eternal Judge and is asked to give an account of her work, if she says truthfully, "I was faithful to my work and to my girls," the examination will not last much longer. In fact, there is a good chance that she will never be asked whether she believes in evolution, the inspiration of the scriptures or a lot of other things we quarrel about.

DICTATORSHIPS

France wants a master mind in government. Italy has a dictator. Spain has had a military government. Greece has just got one. Germany elected von Hindenburg because he was a disciplinarian. The United States and Great Britain adopted strong conservatism.

Regular, professional politicians do not seem to have much influence under reactionary or reconstructive conditions. They are too familiar with one another's methods. They are too prone to try to please their constituents. They think of politics, rather than measures.

Peoples like to have the right to rule themselves, and the right to elect servants of their own preference, and they like to maintain that they do rule. But at least in crises they like to be ruled. The clever politician is one who can rule while leaving the impression that he is following public opinion.

The people are discontented with change, uncertainty and indecision in government. They are satisfied when they feel that the government is strong. The government which commands respect and confidence is more influential than the popular, which generally is weak, or by being extremely conciliatory seems to be weak.

France calls for a master to take the wheel of state, just as Italy did following the war and faced by communism. The executive wanted is one who will dominate the chamber of deputies and check the flow of oratory and stop the display of commonplace political tactics. The people rule in a republic; but they admire the statesman who is able to rule them.

NO MORAL HERE

Pat Crow, the gentleman who gained both fame and wealth 25 years ago by kidnapping the son of a Chicago millionaire and holding him until he was paid a $50,000 ransom, has been arrested in New York as a vagrant. He was picked up by police begging on the streets.

There is a situation that would make the mouth of a professional uplifter water like the springs of Siloam. What a wonderful chance for a homily on the subject. "Crime doesn't pay!"

Unfortunately, however, there is a certain twist to the story that kills this moral. Crow came to poverty and grief, it seems, because he had reformed. He chose to beg rather than steal—and got arrested.

It would be interesting to get a dissertation from Mr. Crow on the topic. "Honesty is the best policy."

THE OLD PUMP

I kin remember way back as a kid, of lots of the funny, an' queer things I did. I often recall of the open charm that once I enjoyed down on grand-mother's farm.

I still hear the squeak and the thumpety-thump the clang of the chain in the crank of the pump. It stood in the yard and was painted all green, and up from the roadway could plainly be seen.

Why, I used to ask to fetch water each day, 'cause, gee, I enjoyed it, when pumpin' away. I'd prime it a bit, and I'd turn the old crank, an' water'd go tricklin' away down the bank.

It seemed that the neighbors, for many miles 'round, were constantly trampin' all over the ground that led to the hillway, and then to the brink where stood the old pump, an' I'd give 'em a drink.

The old-timers tell me it ne'er has run dry. The farmhouse is gone, but the pump stands on high. It's calling me now. In my throat there's a lump. I long for a drink from the old farmyard pump.

THE CURE OF ARTERIOSCLEROSIS (8)

Remember what I said the other day: That there is a cure for arteriosclerosis, if it is taken in time. This gives an opportunity to ring in that old one about old age being preventable if taken in time. You have to adopt the preventive regimen quite a little while before you are born. Dr. Oliver W. Holmes, well known professor of anatomy and gnet (though sound of mind, sprang this one originally. Within the last 50 years tuberculosis has been reduced over 100 per cent as a cause of death in the United States. It formerly rolled up an annual toll of more than 200 deaths in each 100,000 population; now it takes less than 100 victims annually in each 100,000 population. That is ascribed to one essential thing: all the authorities agree that the essential thing in the battle with tuberculosis is personal health education, teaching the individual how to live. Probably tuberculosis is as widely prevalent today as it has ever been; that is, quite as many of us as have it now as our forefathers ever did; but we are just a wee speck more intelligent, more enlightened, and so more of us recover. In the old days so very few victims of tuberculosis ever got well that most people thought the disease was quite hopeless; in our day probably a good majority of victims recover, and the good doctor no longer hesitates to tell the intelligent patient that he trouble is incipient tuberculosis. Nor does the intelligent patient nowadays, who remains in fair health for years after the doctor has "pronounced" his case incipient tuberculosis, conclude that the doctor must have been mistaken; that is a deduction which can be drawn only by an ignorant mind—provided, any intelligence was used in the selection of the doctor. I say an ignorant mind, and if you are not ignorant you will know what I mean: if you resent this, I don't care. I believe nothing does ignorant people more good than calling them ignorant; at any rate, I have learned a lot, I believe, under the spur of being called ignorant.

When arteriosclerosis runs along for years unrecognized, as it does in the vast majority of cases, thanks to the health ignorance of most people, and comes to recognition finally only through the utter breakdown of some organ involved in the degenerative changes, such as the kidneys, heart or brain, it is rather late for even an optimist to think about a cure. Such a careless or negligent victim should be content with any bit of comfort or succor his doctor may be able to give him.

Taken in the incipient stage—before any positive organic effects are manifest, and before the diagnosis makes itself—arteriosclerosis may be at least arrested by medical skill, so that the patient's health may not be further impaired, at least in many cases. Medical skill has the same broad meaning here that it has in respect to the cure of tuberculosis. It is for the patient's medical consultant to determine what factor or factors may be responsible for the given illness, and then to take the proper measures to eliminate such factors. We'll consider some of these factors in succeeding talks.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Hot Air
Can you give me any information about heating of houses in the winter, particularly about bringing moisture into the air when using a hot air furnace? (S. D. J.)

Answer—For maintaining a fair degree of humidity the warm air furnace is preferable to the hot air furnace. The warm air furnace recirculates a large volume of moderately heated air. The hot air furnace has the air intake from the outdoor air and circulates a comparatively small volume of superheated air. Heating the air reduces the humidity. The most important means of insuring a fair degree of humidity is the arbitrary fixing of the household temperature by accurate thermometers and not relying upon personal sensations to regulate the temperature. Set 68 as a maximum temperature. There is no good reason for exceeding that point. The air will retain a fair amount of it is not heated above 68. Although only a few quarts of water will evaporate from the water pots in the furnace it is well to keep them filled. Any other open vessels of water on stove or radiator are a help. Many porous flower pots containing growing plants will evaporate considerably water in a room.

Here's a Man Of Courage
Since last March I have gone without a hat. I have suffered no inconvenience from it and decided to go all winter without a hat, but along comes a friend who says going hatless will give me sinusitis. Please give your opinion. (S. J. H.)

Answer—You have a great moral courage. Your friend's warning is a novel variation of the old hokum.

LOOKING BACKWARD

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Jan. 17, 1901
Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Mory returned from New London where they attended the wedding of the latter's sister.

Outagamie-co supervisors were considering an appropriation of $500 to St. Elizabeth hospital to help pay for the building which was being erected.

Thomas T. A. Gallagher had purchased a one-third interest in the Appleton Shirt and Pants Co. from H. W. Russell and H. G. Russell. Mr. Gallagher had been a salesman for the company for the last seven years.

About 2,000 persons heard the famous Brookes band play concerts in Appleton the previous day.

A new Appleton men's social club opened that afternoon in the basement of the public library. The club rooms were comfortably furnished and every man in Appleton was invited to join the club.

Fire caused considerable loss in the Fairbanks and Timm Machine shop near the south end of the Lakeview bridge. The building owned by the Patten Paper Co. was almost a total loss. The damage was difficult to estimate and it was thought that insurance covered about 50 per cent of the loss. The company to resume business as soon as possible.

Pulpwood was arriving in Appleton at the rate of 50 carloads a day much of it coming from the J. H. Green and Sons camp near St. Ignace.

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Jan. 13, 1916
Company G of the Second infantry was ranked among the 53 best infantry militia companies in the United States by the division of militia affairs of the federal government. Six Wisconsin companies were included among the 53 honor organizations.

The temperature dropped 43 degrees from 7 o'clock Wednesday night until Thursday morning. The thermometer registered 73 below zero Thursday.

The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John McKeever, Greenville, suffered a stroke of paralysis the day previous.

Elmer Wolf completed the painting of Judge John Goodland which later was hung in the circuit court room of the courthouse.

John Cole, a farmer in Grand Chute, submitted to an operation for amputation of his arm at St. Elizabeth hospital. He had injured his hand about a week previous.

$3,600 GIVEN CITY BY POLICE IN CLINTONVILLE

Year's Receipts from Fines and Fees Shows Good Work of Force

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—The Clintonville police department, working under a fire and police commission for a number of years, has made a splendid record for the year just closed. Chief John Monty has turned in to the city coffers the tidy sum of a little over $3,600 obtained from fines and fees. This goes a long way towards maintenance of this department. Leo Kestling and Arthur Steinbock are the assistant officers.

R. H. Schmidt, assistant general manager and H. B. Dodge, chief engineer, will represent the Four Wheel Drive Auto Co. from its representative at Mexico City for the Plomozinc Mining company of that city.

D. D. Wyllys, assistant foreign sales manager at the FWD plant, left for Kitchener, Canada, Saturday where he will spend some time at the Canadian plant.

Sixteen representatives of the Graybar Electric Co., Chicago, with a number of Milwaukee state branch managers, were to arrive in Clintonville Wednesday for a conference with FWD officials and inspectors of the plant, but in particular to see the manufacture and operation of the earth boring machine, that digs holes and sets poles.

C. S. Thomson foreign sales manager for the Four Wheel Drive Auto Co., returned home Saturday. He had been absent since April doing sales work with various South American governments and firms and landed several large orders.

Anna Kleckhoefer resigned her position as saleslady at the Clintonville Mercantile Co., and is departing for Milwaukee.

A birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rosinski in honor of their daughter Leona, Jan. 7. A number of her friends were present and the evening was spent playing games.

Members of the Evangelical church gave a surprise fare, well party Friday evening to Anna Kleckhoefer, who left for Milwaukee Jan. 9.

The Knights of Columbus received holy communion in a body Sunday morning. It was the first quarterly event in the new year. Their regular business meeting will take place in K. of C. hall Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Ben Zehren had the misfortune to fall on a slippery sidewalk Friday, breaking his right arm.

Mrs. Martin Erickson left Saturday morning for Chicago to spend the rest of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Hermanson.

Mrs. J. J. Monty and Mrs. John McDonald spent Thursday at Tigerton.

GAME FRIDAYStiff Battle Will Be Staged
With Manitowoc Booster Team

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The Plywood Five, local basketball organization, is to play its first home game in this city Friday night, when it will meet the Manitowoc Boosters in Knights of Columbus hall. The Plywood quintet has put in some stiff practice during the last few weeks, and is in good shape for the battle. The game is expected to draw an enormous crowd, and if well patronized, will probably mean that New London will again see basketball games here as it did years ago when the old Edisons put up such crack exhibitions.

The Manitowoc team will come here with a strong aggregation. It will consist of Christensen, Druff, Broette, Kubitz and the Logan brothers, the latter pair having starred in the high school tournament at Manitowoc last year. Kubitz is a former Lawrence college star while Druff formerly played with the Oconto American Legion gang. Burt Elliot will not be in the lineup, as was announced last week.

The Plywood lineup will consist of Pope, "Dutch" Wahl, Abendroth, Algiers, Remmel, Zaug and Huntley.

There will also be a good preliminary at 8 o'clock. The preliminary will be played by the sophomores and a part of the regular squad of the high school.

company in this vicinity.

The company wishes to extend its line from its present terminal at the Timm farm on the military road about a half mile northward to the Wrensch highway 18. In doing so the company would conflict with the services of the patrons south of the junction.

Considerable local interest is shown in the announcement that the teams was spent on a farm adjoining this

The second blizzard of the season broke here early Monday morning. A light snowfall which began late Sun-as the wind shifted to a brisk northwest during the night. Though the air was full of driving snow the next morning, stock shipping from the local yards was carried on as usual, with a large number of farmers in the vil-ton theater. Critics everywhere are terming it one of the really great pictures of the year, and one that will live like "The Birth of a Nation" and "The Covered Wagon" in the hearts of America, forever.

One of the many spectacular sequences is the burning at the stake, three centuries ago, the gypsy, considered in those superstitious times a witch, by the man who three centuries later became her husband. The crash of a passenger special into a string of freight cars causes the transition of its occupants to a reincarnation of their lives three centuries back. It is the most powerful treatment of a subject which has baffled scientists for years, that has yet been attempted on the screen.

Ten thrill crowded, spectacular reels that hold the audiences spellbound without noticing the flight of time is the worthy record of this great photoplay.

Warner Bros., who produced this photoplay, lost no time in procuring one of the most popular novels of the season for screen use. Almost everybody who read the adventures of beautiful Conchita Moore in book form will be interested in seeing Marie Prevost in the same role on the screen. She is exactly the type pictured by the twenty famous authors—incidentally, it might be fair to mention them now:

George Agnew Chamberlain, George Barr McCutcheon, Robert Gordon Anderson, George Palmer Putnam, Alex-

John V. A. Weaver, Louis Bromfield,
Gerald Myzant, Carolyn Wells, Rube
Goldberg, Bernice Brown, Wallace Irwin, Frank Craven, E. C. Witwer, Elsie Janis, Ed Streeter and Sophie Kerr.

The story is a rollicking, swift-moving, joyful tale through whose maze of swift adventure progresses the charming heroine and the personable young men fall in love with her. Not only is it an adventure story, but a delightful romance as well; perfectly acted by a cast which includes Ken-

A NEW DEPARTURE!

Motion picture making is closely akin to war! That is, a simile is found between the number of workers essential to transforming the work of one player on the screen and the number necessary to keep one soldier on the battle front. Back in the days of the world war the expression frequently was heard that it takes ten men at home to maintain one soldier on the firing line.

Just how true this is when applied to the making of motion pictures will be brought home to patrons of the New Bijou Theater Friday and Saturday when Clifford S. Elfeldt Productions present a picturization of James Oliver Curwood's "My Neighbors Wife," with an added and original idea suggested and written by Perry Vekroff.

This presentation is really a picture within a picture, telling the story in prologue form of a young man who

MEETING LAUDS CALLAHAN PLAN FOR STATE AID

Will Assure Adequate Support for Poor Districts, He Tells Women

Reduction in school tax rates for those districts that now have high school taxes and better educational facilities for those districts that now think they cannot afford them, would be realized if the state equalization fund plan of State Superintendent John Callahan were put into effect in the opinion of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of school.

Mr. Meating recently delivered an address before the local Association of University Women in which he explained Mr. Callahan's educational program. The equalization fund idea is the first of Mr. Callahan's "fourteen points." It is supposed that this fund be so constituted and distributed that each community can furnish with this state aid adequate educational facilities for its children without an excessive local school tax rate.

There are 21 counties in Wisconsin and 7,272 school districts, said Mr. Meating. These counties vary greatly in wealth from Florence county with assessed valuation of $6,420,057, Outagamie county with about $100,000, and Milwaukee county with $974,702,424. School districts in various parts of the state show the same variations. Some have an assessed valuation of less than $50,000, while others have more than a million dollars back of their schools.

Although without some form of state support many districts in the state would be unable to support by a local tax alone a system of education adequate for present day needs.

AID IS INADEQUATE.
This present year the state school fund permits an apportionment of $4 to each child of school age in the state. The apportionment of this money on a census basis does not provide an equal educational opportunity. Some school districts have less than 20 children of school age. They will receive $80 or less from the state. One rural district in Outagamie county has 100 children. It will receive $400, and there are only 12 children in the public school. The county must raise an equal amount. Thus the smaller district mentioned will receive about $160 all told in help. But the average minimum annual cost is $1,500.

Thus the state and county pay about one-tenth of the cost of the school system they control. Mr. Callahan believes that a state can safely pay up to 40 per cent of the schools in order to equalize the financial resources back of education. There is no educational equality when one school district must pay five times as much school tax as their neighboring district.

The 40 per cent state aid, as proposed by Superintendent Callahan by the state legislature, would be apportionment first, on the basis of the number of elementary teachers employed, secondly by some just ratio to the wealth back of each teacher employed and thirdly, on condition that a fair amount be raised and distributed to school districts by the counties.

The bill suggests, A state distributive fund large enough to act as an equalizing fund for districts whose valuation is too low to provide an adequate tax for school purposes, repeal of the present 7 mill tax, putting inheritance tax receipts into the school fund each year, the income to be added to the distributive fund distributing the fund on the basis of $250 to each elementary school unit on condition that the county raise an equal sum, and apportioning the remainder on the basis of assessed valuation, dissolving of any district with a valuation of less than $100,000, and withholding of aid from school with less than 20 pupils.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS MEN TO DESIGN BATTLESHIP

Draftsmen are needed by the United States civil service commission for the New York navy yard for work on plans for a new cruiser. Increased rates of pay for this work have been announced by John T. Doyle, secretary of the commission.

There is an immediate need for additional design, detail, and copyist draftsmen for hull work. Rates of pay for design draftsmen have been increased from $8.08 to $10.16 a day for detail work from $5.84 to $7.50 and for copyists $4.64 to $5.04. A reasonable number of mechanical, structural steel, shipbuilding, or ship ventilation draftsmen can be used by the commandant of the yard. Applicants will not be assembled for written tests but will be rated on their education, fitness, experience, and recommendations of their work. Information and application blanks may be obtained from the secretary of the United States civil service district Customhouse, New York city.

WIDEN HIGHWAY WHEN BRIDGE ROAD IS BUILT

City Probably Will Ask S. Cherry-st Bids at Next Council Meeting

Developments concerning the opening of the right-of-way south of Cherry-st bridge are being pushed so vigorously by O. C. Rollman of Green Bay, division engineer of the Wisconsin highway commission, that the common council probably will be able to advertise for bids for the paving at its meeting on Jan. 21. Mr. Rollman intends not only to provide a straight connection between the bridge and W. Foster-st. but also to widen the concrete between the intersection and Gmelin corners.

These angles of the situation were learned by Mayor John Goodland Jr. through a conference here last week with M. Rollman. Plans prepared by E. M. Connelly, city engineer, for the S. Cherry-st paving as far as Winnebago-co line were delivered to the division engineer and he has sent them to Madison. He said he expects them to be approved at once and will return them to the council with the request that bids be obtained on the paving. The entire paving project is to be pushed so that work can start early in the spring and the road can be finished by the time heavy tourist traffic starts.

Winnebago-co also has its plans completed and ready for acceptance. The land through the John Lynch farm by which the roadway will be straightened has not been obtained but condemnation proceedings have been started by Winnebago-co. It is duty to maintain and patrol the whole roadway from the Winnebago. Mr. Lynch refused $5,000 for the right-of-way through his bridge. The court now will appoint appraisers who will decide the benefits and damages.

appraisers who will decide the benefits and damages.

RELIEVE TRAFFIC
It is Mr. Rollman's plan to widen highway 15 between new S. Cherry-st intersection and Gmelin corners in order that there will be no danger or inconvenience to the heavy traffic carried over this route. The Gmelin curve was rebuilt about two years ago so that it is wide and safe but the pavement between that point and Appleton city limits is only 16 feet wide. A shoulder of concrete will be built on each side so that the highway will be at least 20 feet wide. The new roadway between highway 15 and the bridge will be a boulevard with a 10-foot strip of pavement on each side of the terrace and one way traffic. The entire arrangement as planned will prove one of the most safe motor lanes in this locality.

An interesting angle of the maintenance of this highway was revealed by Mr. Rollman in his conversation with Mayor Goodland. He declared that it will be Winnebago county's duty to maintain and patrol the whole roadway from the Winnebago. Mr. Lynch refused $5,000 for the right-of-way through his bridge. The court now will appoint appraisers who will decide the benefits and damages.

LITTLE JOE

bridge and bear such expenses is not made plain.

One contract probably will be awarded for the entire paving project in order to save on the cost, and the expense prorated to the counties. The state highway commission takes supervision in charge when the territory is divided in this way.

FOUNDRYMEN'S MEETING TO BE HELD JAN. 20

The University of Wisconsin Extension division Second district, which recently transferred its offices from Oshkosh to Appleton, is in charge of the open conference of the metal-lurgy department of the university which will be held at 7:30 in the evening of Jan. 20 in the conference room of the chamber of commerce adjoining the extension division office.

Representatives from all gray iron foundries in northeastern Wisconsin are invited to attend. Professor R. B. McCaffery and Ben G. Elliot will discuss possible lines of research and cooperation for the development of the industry.

ESTIMATE MANITOWOC POPULATION AT 23,000

The city of Manitowoc, for years a peer of Appleton in population, is evidently keeping pace with the rapid increase in population noted in Appleton. The Wright Directory company of Milwaukee has just issued a directory for Manitowoc and it gives the population of that city at 22,197. This is very near the estimates made of the present population of Appleton. These estimates vary from 22,400 to even 23,000.

HOLD APPLETON MAN AS CAR THEIF AND BURGLAR

ROY HANSON NABBED FOR THREE CRIMES

Accuse Young Man of Stealing Two Automobiles and Robbing Gas Station

Arrest of a man for the theft of two automobiles and also for a burglary was effected in Appleton Wednesday following a complaint made by a representative of the insurance company which had insured one of the cars that were stolen.

The man under arrest is Roy Hanson, 28, formerly of Oshkosh, who is charged with stealing a Ford touring car at Wausau about Oct. 1 and a Ford sedan about Dec. 1 in Indianapolis, Ind., and burglary of a filling station in Oshkosh within the last two weeks.

Hanson's wife, who was living on Sherman-pl., also was taken into custody and turned over to the Oshkosh authorities for questioning in connection with the gas station burglary.

The Hanson have one child, a boy of about 4 years, whom the grandparent, living in Appleton, have taken into their home. The man under arrest has been making a living by demonstrating a certain implement for purposes of sale.

Hanson is said to have admitted the theft of the Wausau car last fall and a trip to Indianapolis. While in need of money Hanson sold the tires off his car and abandoned the vehicle. After that he stole a sedan in Indianapolis, and used the license plate of the car first stolen.

Hanson then came to Appleton. Owners of the filling station at Oshkosh link him with the burglary of that office, although he denies it. It was learned that he formerly was employed there and was familiar with the combination of the safe. A window had been forced open and the safe was robbed of more than $100 in cash and also several checks. The checks were found at the Hanson home Wednesday, when Detective Matthew McGinnis took Hanson into custody.

The touring car found in Indianapolis has been turned over to the Wausau authorities to be returned to the owner, and the Indianapolis police also have been notified of the recovery here of the sedan.

CLUBS SHOULD LIVE TO SERVE

Dr. Holmes Says Man Who Accumulates Money Just to Be Rich Is of No Value

Service to the Community was the theme of a talk by Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor of First Methodist church at the Kiwanis club luncheon Wednesday noon at the Conway hotel. Dr. Holmes said that organization which were service club in name but not in real community betterment had no justification for their existence. He also said that a person who starts out accumulating money with the sole idea of seeing how large a fortune he can pile up is of no value to a community, and added that the person who takes a pride in accumulating money should save it for worth while service which will better the condition of his fellow men.

Douglas Malloch, American poet and humorist who spoke at the manufacturers and merchants banquet Wednesday evening, was a guest at the luncheon. Other guests were 12 girls from the Roosevelt Junior high school who aided the Kiwanians in the Christmas theater party for children given about three weeks ago.

Veteran Employees Are Honored At C. C. Dinner

Recognition of long and faithful service in industry was given 108 men and women at a banquet of the chamber of commerce in the First Methodist diningroom Wednesday evening. It was a unique event and probably will be held annually from now on.

Workers who had spent 25 years or more at their occupations were guests of the heads of the manufacturing plants at the dinner. Remembrances were distributed to those present with the longest service records and the remaining time was devoted to greetings and reminiscences. The gathering then adjourned to the larger diningroom of the church where a dinner of merchants and their employees had taken place. The two groups heard an address on The Average Man by Douglas Malloch of Chicago, poet and philosopher.

PRaises FAITHFULNESS

Elmer H. Jennings, chairman of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, presided at the dinner. Congratulations to the persons so long identified with the industries were offered on behalf of the chamber of commerce by J. P. Frank. He said the fact that these men and women had served the same concern for 25 years or more reflected great credit on their integrity, faithfulness and honor, and it also reflected credit on the stability of the institutions that had employed them. Capital and labor are essential to one another he further declared, and neither can reach the degree of success it strives for without the full cooperation of the other. The employers and the workers thus sitting together at a common table were urged to join hands to further the best interests of the community, the industries, the persons themselves and their families.

Fox River Paper Co. had 35 veteran employees present out of 52 in its plant, according to a report announced by Mr. Jennings and Kimberly-Clark Co. had 22, Patten Paper Co. 11, Appleton Wire Works 14, Appleton Machine Co. 8 and there were smaller numbers representing the Thilmann Pulp & Paper Co., Valley Iron Works, Appleton Woolen Mills, Standard Manufacturing Co., Meyer Press, Appleton police department, Wisconsin Telephone Co., and Tuttle Press.

AWARD GIFTS

Awarding of gifts of recognition to those serving the longest was conducted by Joseph Koffend, Jr., president of Appleton Chamber of Commerce. He said the gift to the oldest employee was to have been awarded to Edward Schultz who had worked for the Kimberly-Clark Co. for 48 years, but Mr. Schultz died only a few days ago. The next longest record was that of Joseph Lausman, who has been with Kimberly-Clark Co. 44 years. He was given a set of silverware. A clock was presented to Albert Pasch of Patten Paper Co., who had worked there 44 years. Other receiving gifts were: John Hanson at Kimberly-Clark Co., 42 years; Henry DeCostor, Patten Paper Co., 42 years; Nick Morgan, Fox River Paper Co., 41 years.

RECALLS INDUSTRIES

Early day industries were recalled by E. F. Saecker of Appleton Machine Co. In an informal talk and past experiences also were related by G. E. Buchanan of Appleton Wire Works. The latter told how his father mistook a saloon called the "Board of Trade" for a chamber of commerce, and how some mirth loving person put decoy ducks in a deep pool on Oneida-st in front of the police station.

Several duets were sung by Harry Sidmore and James Archie, accompanied in the piano by LeVahn Maesch, and a solo was presented by George Nixon, accompanied by Howard Nussbicker.

Among those serving their concerns for 25 years or more present at the dinner were:

man feared being mobbed the morning after City park was bought for $11,000 because it was a case of squandering money. The speaker also referred to Charles Riggs, who retired from the woolen mills recently at the age of 85. Mr. Riggs took a contract in the early days to build a bridge at Lakesh for $1,950. He could get all the labor needed at 90 cents a day and farmers were glad to give the timbers for the hauling so they could have their land cleared. Fuel in the early day was mostly barge which factories bought at $2.50 a cord.

"Our colleges, churches and such things are a real asset to our city," said Mr. Harwood, but the real backbone is such people as we have here tonight."

FIREMEN RESPOND TO 26 CALLS IN DECEMBER

The severe cold snap during December brought with it the usual "cold weather" fires, although the number was not as great as might have been expected, in the opinion of Louis McGillan, in charge of fire department records.

The department received 26 calls during the month, and of this number there was one fire caused by an overheated furnace, four due to overheated smoke pipes or flues, two caused by sparks from chimneys falling roofs and two chimney fires. The others included a fire from an electric heater, one from an oil heater, two automobile fires, a grass fire, a fire caused by a hot electric station, one resulting from wood too close to a furnace and two false alarms.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing though, at home is messy and troublesome. For only 75 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph in order to see life.

ANDREW McDERMOTT is managing editor of the paper.

After many exciting adventures, Barbara finds herself in hot water over a story she has written about the lingerie in the inaugural wardrobe of the governor's lady.

McDERMOTT soothes the governor's wife and Barbara goes home to be called at 2 a. m. by EDD JEFFRIES, police reporter, who tells her she must go with him to cover a night club murder.

The murderess proves to be a woman of refinement, who has shot a man in a love triangle. "You can't beat life," she tells Barbara.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

It was three-thirty when Barbara dragged herself up the stairs again and met her mother in the upper hall. "Why mummy," she said, "have you been sitting up for me?"

Mrs. Hawley flushed. "Not exactly. But I couldn't sleep; so I thought I'd sit by the front window for a while. There's a fire in your room."

"This sort of thing's got to stop, you know," scolded Barbara. "A newspaper reporter can't have her family acting like that."

But the crackling fire and the glass of warm milk that her mother had prepared, brought new color to her cheeks.

"What a queer woman the murderess was, mother," she said, as she kicked off her shoes and reached for her bedroom slippers. "A lady, unmistakably. But she wasn't a bit sorry she killed him. Said it was her own affair, and you couldn't—" "beat life."

"I wonder if you can," replied her mother, speaking almost under her breath.

A calendar stood on the desk by the window. As Barbara passed it, on her way to snap the light switch off, she stopped and picked it up. A red cross marked the day on which she had broken with Bruce.

Four days had passed since then.

The Telegraph office had sunk into its late afternoon slumber. The hum of the telegraph instruments was hushed, and only two typewriters clicked spasmodically in opposite corners of the room.

Over one of these Barbara sat. Within earshot, three reporters, tilted far back in their chairs, were discussing life and letters, lazily.

Barbara leaned forward to listen, and one of them caught sight of her. "Hi, Miss Hawley, you look as if you had something to say on this subject. If so, spill it. Free speech is the rule here."

Barbara had opened her lips to answer when the door of McDermott's office opened and he beckoned to her. It was the first time that she had been granted private audience with the managing editor.

McDermott stood beside his desk, flicking ashes thoughtfully on the floor. "I have a hunch for a story, Miss Hawley," he said.

"There's a new real estate firm in town that looks like good material. Manners, Stone and Reynolds, they call themselves. Starting out to develop Appleton into a model community for homes."

"It seems they have bought a section out west which they mean to develop as a model—latest architecture, paving, landscaping, and so forth—just to show what can be done. I hear they're going to splash millions into it. Call it Vale Acres, I think."

"Got the tip from a chap at my pool club the other day. None of the other sheets have heard of it. How'd you like to run over this afternoon and see the story up for us?"

Barbara caught her breath and was silent. McDermott looked at her curiously, but said nothing.

"And while you're about it, try to get a line on the types of architecture they mean to use. Maybe one of them will make a statement that Victorian gingerbread buildings in Appleton must go—an esthetic crime, or something of the sort."

"There are two things the public is interested in, in the newspapers—first praise of itself, and second condemnation of itself. Either one boosts circulation."

Barbara returned to her desk, and opened the drawer that held her cold cream and powder. Then she shut it with a bang and reached for her hat and coat.

The office of Manners, Stone and Reynolds was in Insurance-bldg. By the time Barbara reached the marble lobby her head was even a trifle higher than usual and her mouth more firm.

"There's another one coming to ask about a divorce," said the elevator boy to a cronie as she stepped out of the elevator. "None," replied the cronie. "That's a tooth-pulling case."

Barbara caught both remarks. She stopped in front of a glass door and tried to catch a reflection of her face. The sound of a door opening behind her made her whirl about in a panic.

The door across the hall bore the names "Manners, Stone and Reynolds," and underneath, in smaller letters, "Real Estate."

A hum of voices within suggested great activity. Barbara entered through the open door. The office seemed crowded with men, all talking rapidly and interrupting one another.

A middle-aged man was moving about among the others with an air of pompous hospitality. Barbara selected him as a member of the firm of Manners, Stone and Reynolds.

"Yes," he replied to her question. "I could give you that information I am in Mr. Manners' But at present I am much too busy to talk to you. You will find follow that man in corridor 301."

will find the offices of Mr. Stone and Mr. Reynolds. Either of them can tell you what you want to know."

He dismissed her before she could protest. Barbara turned and followed the corridor. There were two doors ahead.

Barbara straightened her hat, and then with a defiant gesture, pushed it back to its previous angle. She had her hand on the knob of the first door, when it opened, pushing her back against the wall.

A feminine voice emerged from the opening. "Yes, indeed, Mr. Reynolds. How very kind of you!" The voice was cultivated and of vibrant quality.

Barbara flattened her body against the wall behind the half opened door just in time to avoid being seen by the woman who came out.

Though the woman's face was turned the other way, Barbara could see that she was young and graceful. She was dressed in black. The heavy fur border on her velvet coat swirled luxuriously about her feet as she turned in the doorway.

She advanced into the hall. Then she pulled out a gold vanity case and, holding her head back, looked searchingly at her reflection in the tiny glass. From behind her, Barbara caught the slight, satisfied toss of her head as she moved away.

Barbara stepped nearer to the door after she was gone. There on the glass panel was the name, "Bruce Reynolds."

She went on down the corridor.

The private office of Bruce Reynolds was singularly quiet, in the midst of the general hubbub in the suite. Its mahogany desk bore three small model houses, and the bookcases were stacked with plaster miniatures of facades, steeples and cupolas.

Bruce sat at his desk, his chin on his hand. A pale amber sunbeam from the western window fell on his head, and showed a lock standing up on the crown of his head. He picked up a filmy lace handkerchief that had fallen beside his chair and put it in the top drawer.

With a gesture of sharp impatience, he rose and grasped his hat. Manners shouted at him as he passed through the reception room, "Hi, there, Reynolds. Been a good day for you, what say? Two pretty women callers in direct succession! And both of 'em puppys, I'll tell the world."

"Seems to me you didn't give the kid much time. Maybe Cleo in mourning was enough for one day. Zat so?"

Bruce looked at him. "I don't know what you're talking about," he replied, and left the room.

Mrs. Hadley's select boarding house was bleak and quiet when Bruce entered it two hours later. He passed the parlor, with eyes averted from the flowered carpet and the golden oak library table.

On a stand in the hall lay the afternoon mail, and the pad on which Mrs. Hadley left messages for her guests.

"Mr. Reynolds," read a note on the pad. "A lady has been calling you. Wouldn't give her name. They never will—Mrs. H."

Bruce shuffled through the mail and went on upstairs, frowning.

He had almost reached the door of his room, when another door opened and a girl came out. She walked straight up to him, smiling. Her eyes were heavily shadowed and her teeth were white.

"Excuse me, mister," she said, "but would you be so good as to pound a nail for my picture. I've mashed a thumb and two fingers already. She held up a small hand with three bruises."

Bruce smiled and followed her into her room. "My name's Violetta Cranby," said the girl, while he pounded the nail. "Hope you don't think it was fresh of me to ask you. Women aren't much good where muscle's needed, you know. And I did so want to hang this picture."

The picture was a colored print of a lady in a garden hat, with a bunch of lilacs in her arms.

"You're perfectly welcome, I'm sure, Miss Cranby," he smiled. "Glad I could help you."

Oh, Mr. Reynolds," came a voice from the lower hall. "You answer the telephone extension up there. It's the same lady."

Bruce turned and hurried out of the room.

He took the receiver down with trembling fingers. "There's no one on the line now. Will you excuse it, please?" purred the operator.

"But there must be somebody," cried Bruce. "They've been trying to get me several times."

"The party that called you has hung up."

Barbara Hawley leaned against

The most skilful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN invited guests come in for dinner. And the festive board resounds with joyous words of friendship. When the prime feast ever served is finished—then, how welcome are those words of hospitality—"Have a Camel!"

For no other cigarette was ever so fitly smoked and served to others as Camel. Camel goodness insures a fitting climax to every perfect spread, adds of its own fragrant welcome to every home's bright occasions. Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown in all the world. They never tire the taste, never leave a cigarette after-taste. Fragrance and mellowness have made Camel the greatest word in all the history of smoking.

So this night, as you learn anew the joys of giving happiness to others. As after-dinner laughter rings out through all the house—know then the pleasures of smoking and serving the finest. You may be doubly sure that every good feature is rolled into Camels that anyone ever searched for in a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO PAULA PERRIER:

My dear Paula

I arrived home from Leslie Prescott's party which Melville Sartoris gave her on his yacht, to find your letter. His entertainment came very near becoming a great tragedy. I am sending you the clippings about it.

I wonder if you ever knew Melville Sartoris? He is sailing through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles, and then on to the Orient. You ought to know him. He's a writer in a dilapidated way, and just has oodles of money. They say he's a regular Prince Charming, and if he does everything on the same scale in which the planned and executed this farewell luncheon for Leslie, he certainly earns the sobriquet.

I told him if he stopped at all in Los Angeles to hunt you up and say he was a friend of mine in the meantime I would write you. He really isn't a friend of mine, Paula, but I'm quite sure he would amuse you for a little while. Personally I would like to know what you think of him. I think you have an uncanny judgment in regard to people.

You will forgive me when I tell you that I smiled over your latest baby problem. You and your baby problems, dear child, have always been most interesting to me. Talking about them, I want to tell you about little Jack. He is the handsomest, sturdiest little chap you ever saw in your life—and the way he idolizes Leslie. Honestly, Paula, although I am not telling her, I will say to you privately I really think she is fonder of him than she is of her own baby.

Life is queer, isn't it? Here you are having had to give away your own baby, because you did not have money enough to keep it and you would not accept money enough from me to take you over. And then Leslie, in the shape of motion pictures flings into your lap a lot of money so that you could have taken care of him if you could have managed to live on a little longer with him. In the meantime in a fit of hurt pride and utter dejection you have given him to the wife of his father.

Now, after a time, when the hurt of your own baby's loss has become perhaps a little softened, a woman who thinks her husband is in love with you dies, and makes you promise to care for her baby. Fate has a way of mixing things in a manner that mortals could not conceive.

I can see just the position in which you are placed, and I think that Beatrice Summers gave you that baby purposely to make a living bond between you and her husband. I don't see anything else for you to do, however, but to take it, although as you say, it will probably shake Hollywood to its center.

Why don't you care for Summers? Everybody tells me how a nice sort of a chap. You must have a great many tastes and interests in common. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

EXPECT 70 SKATERS IN POST-CRESCENT ICE MEET

ENTRIES TAKEN UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK THURSDAY NIGHT

Menasha Expected to Send City Team of from 10 to 20 Skaters in Last Day Rush

With champions in just about every mens' race of the 1925 Post-Crescent Skating Tournament again entered in the Fourth Annual Post-Crescent meet scheduled for Sunday and Kaukauna, Neenah, and Menasha sending over an imposing array of entries, the 1926 meet promises to be one of the best in years and should draw one of the largest crowds in some time. Henry DeBecker winner of the 220-yard dash in 1925 again entered as is Al Gosha, winner of the senior 440-yard event. Gosha also took third in the 220 and made 6 points to give Clem Kitzinger, winner of the title, a hot race. Kitzinger piled up 9 points. Joseph Rettler, who lead in the 1925 mens' mile and looked like the winner until a bad spill ruined his chances again is in the running and looks like the 1926 winner and a strong defender of the city's honor against the outside invasion.

Joe Sharp lead the 220-yard dash last year until a bad spill bothered him in all of the rest of the day's events and he is in better shape than ever this year. Even then he took a second place in the 440. He is expected to finish high in every event he enters. Walter Bell, out of the city last year and a star of two years ago, again is ready to go. A new senior entry which may bother the older men is Robert Roemer, 16-years of age. Bob topped first in a fall intermediate half mile and only a fall kept him from the same position in the 440-yard dash. He is expected to give his older rivals a hard fight. Walter Ilaufer, a Neenah entry, took third in the junior 220-yard dash last year, and Howard Fisher and Robert Neller, third and fourth respectively in the junior 440. All three are entered again this year to make the competition more exciting. Francis Rooney, winner of the junior 440 is entered in the intermediates and Ella Nickash winner of the senior girls 220-yard dash and second in the 880 again in the field. She will be Appleton's sole defender against a Kaukauna invasion.

The added attractions of the afternoon were cut to one when Manager Walter Bell, announced that the Valley Valley Hockey League leaders, the Schlager-Galpin Ma-jors, will postpone their game with Neenah, one of their strongest rivals. The game would be in the nature of a championship battle as Neenah is right on the heels of the local pucksters with another week to go. Appleton would have to win to keep the title. With all except one of his men entered in the grueling races which came before the game, Manager Bell did not dare to take a chance on losing the title, which he and his fellow-players have worked so hard for. Therefore, the game will be called off.

However, the other feature, the new Champions Race will be run without fail. Percy Sharp, crack hockeyist and champ of 1924, will oppose Clem Kitzinger, 1925 champ, who set one of the fastest mile records ever seen in Appleton to break Sharp's mark last year. Kitzinger made the mile in 3 minutes and 8.8 seconds, clipping 21.2 seconds off Sharp's mark. The mark was as good as many big city miles in the same year. However, both boys will find the going tougher with a two-mile course to traverse though both desired that distance. Still a third entry may be in the big race as the 1925 champion automatically becomes eligible as soon as he takes his title and as that occurs before the Champion Race, he can enter it. However, because of his hard grind in the three other big senior races in which he must win at least one and probably a second in another, he may "wait a year" and enter the new Class A events in 1927.

60 ENTRIES IN

Kaukauna's entry list looks sweeter and sweeter each day and the Appleton boys are going to have their hands pretty full all the way. Two Menasha Allys, 2; Tourist Inns, Menasha, 1.

Hoppies Wieners, Appleton, moved up into third place in the Fox River Valley Bowling league Wednesday evening by taking the measure of Dick's Five of Little Chute in three straight games. The local entry totaled 2,733 for the series, compared with 2,412 for the losing team.

C. Tornow led the onslaught for the Hoppies crew, clearing up the alleys for 592 on games of 161, 223 and 208. F. Pelt was next with 573.

Arcades, the second Appleton entry in the league, stepped up one notch from sixth to fifth position by taking a two game victory from the Blue Moons of Kimberly.

Menasha Allys continue to set the pace at the top of the league with a per centage of over 800. They won two games from the Tourist Inns of Menasha Wednesday evening. The last place Hilgenberg's keggers of Kaukauna surprised bowling fans by trimming the Electric City team, hailing from the same town, for three games. The victory, combined with the defeat suffered by Dick's Five, places the two in a tie for sixth honors.

Jack Dunn, as manager at Baltimore, is responsible for sending three highly touted stars to the majors—Babe Ruth, Jack Bentley and "Lefty" Groves.

more seniors have entered from the Electric City since Wednesday evening. New entries up to 8 o'clock Thursday morning total 60 and prospects are good for at least 10 or 15 more in the final day's rush, as usual.

In this case the entry list will go far over the top of any previous year, but it will be due to boys' entries. The men have shown an increased interest this year, while the girls have slumped to only a few entries, a sad decrease over past years. Among the late entries in the senior events is that of Bobby DeGuire, an Appleton boy, well known as a state caddy golf champ and now pro at the new Wisconsin Rapids course, who has decided to mix his golf with skating.

Menasha will send over an entire city team of from 10 to 20 members and their entries will be in Thursday, according to R. Miller, city recreation director. This will make the most a tri-city affair between Kaukauna, Menasha and Appleton and will assure races in the girls' events, where only three were entered until Wednesday evening. Menasha and Appleton will be represented in the senior races where Ella Nickash will be the sole Appletonian between a pair of city triumph and Kaukauna and Menasha will be alone in the junior races with Appleton not entered to date. New entries up to 8 o'clock Thursday morning were:

Seniors men—Bobby DeGuire, Appleton, all-events; Nestor Bielek, Kaukauna, mile race; Chauncey Fahl, Kaukauna, 440-yard dash.

Intermediate boys—Lloyd Derus, Kaukauna, and Frank Buss, Appleton, all-events; Lawrence Ertl, Appleton, 880-yard dash.

Junior boys—Harold Schweitzer, Howard Fischer, Walter Nau and Melvin Kranzuch, Appleton, all-events; James Vanderlinden and Albert Kranzuch, Appleton, 220-yard dash.

Kaukauna's entry list looks sweeter and sweeter each day and the Appleton boys are going to have their hands pretty full all the way. Two

RED GRANGE STRIKES OUT IN OWN DEFENSE

THERE IS NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT OPINES THE REDHEAD

THE GREATEST DRAWING CARD IN FOOTBALL HISTORY

'RED' GRANGE

ADMITS HE'S NO SALESMAN

New Orleans, Jan. 14—Red Grange strikes out at least in his own defense.

The greatest star in football, misquoted, harried into constant denials of wild stories, criticized and booed as well as praised and cheered, for the first time tells his story of why he entered professional football.

So here's Red Grange's defense of himself in his own words:

"I haven't any apologies to make. I'm not ashamed of a thing I've done. I think I showed plain common sense in cashing in on an asset after I had given everything I had to my university.

"Let's talk sense about this whole thing. My father is poor. He wanted my brother and me to have a college education. He borrowed money to put us through. In the summer I helped out by working as an ice man at $40 per week.

"When I entered college I had no definite plans as to a profession. I thought that a man who has an honest asset he can turn into cash and kicks it out of the door. He will tell you he is a darn fool. Football is my asset and I am cashing in on it.

"I found out early I was no salesman. I tried selling insurance. No one seemed interested in insurance but everyone was willing to talk football.

"If I had quit college and gone into selling real estate, insurance or stocks and bonds no one would have censured me. Yet I would have been capitalizing on my football reputation as much as I am today.

"I've had plenty such offers. A Florida concern offered me $10,000 for one month to sell real estate, not because I was a good salesman but because a lot of people had heard about Red Grange in football and they could get much publicity in return.

The outfit includes five former amateur champions of the United States: Gardner, Bobby Jones, Francis Oulmet, Jesse Sweetzer, and Jess Guilford. The other three are Watts Gunn, runner up to Jones last summer; Roland MacKenzie, medalist in the amateur of the Pacific coast.

Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, Ore., who was the hero of the 1921 team victory abroad, and Chick Evans of Chicago, twice national amateur champion, eight times western titleholder and winner of the national open event in 1915 with the record score of 286, were dropped from the roster. Why they were supplanted was not announced.

Max Marston and D. Clark Corkran, both of Philadelphia, Jimmy Johnston of St. Paul, George Rotan of Houston and H. Chandler Egan, of Medford, Ore., are the five alternates chosen.

The thirteen will go to England early in May to practice for the British amateur championship, the Walker cup competition, which is set for June 2 and 3. The cup has been contested three times and always won by America.

SCATTER SMITH'S ASHES OVER FOOTBALL STADIUM

Berkeley, Calif.—(P)—Andy Smith's last wish is to be fulfilled and his ashes will flutter from the sky to a permanent resting place in California memorial stadium, scene of his triumphs as football coach for the University of California. Dean Frank H. Probert made this known upon arrival of Smith's body from Philadelphia. Services will begin at the north gate of the stadium on Friday between the hours of 11 and 12. All activities at the University will be suspended for the 60 minutes. At noon, an army airplane, piloted by Lieut. John R. Glascock, former California football player under Smith will fly above the stadium and scatter the ashes over the field.

Y-Dormitory indoor baseball team took the lead in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Softball league Wednesday evening by adding two games to its win column and increasing its percentage to 750. The new leaders took the measure of the Meyer Press outfit 7 to 1, the losers being almost helpless before the slants of Art Denny of the dormitory team, and then beat the Lawyers 3 to 2 in a postponed game. Denny and Pelkey made up the battery of the Y team in the first game while Colvin and Bayer handled the pitching and receiving for the Meyer Press. The battle for the Lawyers was Wheeler and Pelkey.

The Lawyers won their first game Wednesday, taking the measure of the Post-Crescent cellar team by a 13 to 0 score. Starnard, Cartier and E. Bates did the delivering and catching for the losers.

PURDUE TRIMS OHIO, 29 TO 22

Boilermakers Stage Rally in Last Half to Defeat Buckeye Quint

Lafayette, Ind.—Purdue evened its count with Ohio State by winning a western conference basketball, 29 to 22, here Wednesday night. The Boilermakers, trailing by 14 to 12 at half time, held the Buckeyes to four field goals in the final period, while Capt. Spradling, Neuman, and Cramer accounted for enough points to give Coach Lambert's team a victory. Purdue now has a .500 rating in the Big Ten race, having lost to the Buckeyes at Columbus Saturday night.

Neuman added the power to Purdue's attack. He led the way and Capt. George Spradling followed, although the latter scored the most points, 12, for high point honors. Neuman was runner-up with eleven points.

The Ohioans, with Cunningham and Bell always threatening, proved dangerous until the end of the tough assault. Ilectorne and Tarbert also kept the Boilermaker fans on edge with their shots from long ranges. The former connected on two of his tries and the latter made good one. Related substituting failed to bolster Ohio's offensive or assist its defense. Capt. Soffer of Ohio and Red Wright of Purdue each played a stellar game at back guard.

LEGION HONORED AT CONCERT BY MILITARY BAND

Musical Organization Plays Splendid Program in Chapel Friday Night

Appleton's 120th Field Artillery band, which will play its first concert of the year Friday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel was organized nine years ago as the Ninth Wisconsin Infantry band, and today stands as the leader of the four military bands in Wisconsin. The concert Friday will be dedicated to the Oney Johnston Post of the American Legion.

The Ninth Infantry band was organized in 1917 by Colonel Hugh Dimeory, George Steenis, William Steenis, I. D. Segal, Stephen Joseph, and Arnold Gmeiner. P. H. Jebe was the first conductor of the band.

Following the World War the national guard units were reorganized in 1919, and the Ninth Infantry band was made the 127 Infantry band. Later a military band was organized in Oshkosh, and was made the 127th Infantry band, as that city was the headquarters of the 127th regiment.

The Appleton organization was attached to the 121st Field Artillery, but two years ago was transferred to the 120th Field Artillery. The transfer was made because the 120th Field Artillery is a full regiment, while the 121st Field Artillery is only a fractional organization.

Mr. Jebe was conductor of the band until 1919. The next conductor was Paul J. Pullmiller of Lawrence, Conservatory of Music who served until 1922 when the position was taken by a Mr. Schultz, now of Wausau. In 1923 Prof. Pullmiller again took the leadership and during a part of 1924 Fred Runkel of Milwaukee was conductor. During the latter part of 1924 Edward Mumm, present band conductor took charge of the organization.

Members of the original Ninth Regiment Wisconsin band were Fred Jebe, conductor; I. D. Segal, A. L. Gmeiner, W. Steenis, Stephen Joseph, A. J. Bauer, H. J. Brinkman, Edward E. Gustav, Segar, Edward Hoffman, Joseph Wentzel, Charles Marks, John Hoerning, F. C. Smith, A. J. Lewis, Louis Littman, F. A. Krause, J. W. Darrow, A. J. Leuders, Walter Voeks, Mr. Schmaltz, Herman Bauer, Arthur Demand, George Steenis, A. J. Schmalz, Michael McGlosky, and Frank Ashauer.

The present membership of the band is Edward P. Mumm, conductor; Mike Steinhauer, E. S. Woods, A. L. Gmeiner, William Steenis, S. C. Rose, Carl Schiebeler, H. J. Brinkman, George Steenis, A. J. WANTS KIN PUT UNDER BOND TO PRESERVE PEACE

Another Warrant Grows Out of Rothlisberger-Acheson Family Row

Another case has arisen in the multiplicity of litigation between the families of James Acheson, Appleton, and son-in-law, Joseph Rothlisberger, Greenville farmer.

Following the quarrel between Acheson and his son-in-law on the farm Sunday, which resulted in Rothlisberger obtaining warrants for the arrest of Acheson and two others on a charge of assault and battery, the father-in-law has countersued with a warrant asking that Rothlisberger be placed under bonds to keep the peace.

During the scuffle in which Rothlisberger and his wife were beaten, according to Rothlisberger's complaint he held a .22 calibre rifle in his hand and pointed it at Acheson, the latter charges. The gun was wrested away from him and now it is in the possession of the sheriff. It was indicated at the office of Sheriff P. G. Schwartz Thursday that Acheson might withdraw the peace warrant and obtain another charging Rothlisberger with pointing a firearm at him with intent to kill.

The Achesons have started a farm foreclosure action against Rothlisberger, and Mrs. Acheson has begun suit for divorce.

PULLMAN RISES TO NEW RECORD

Renewed Weakness of Motorists 'Disconcerting to Bullish Operators

New York (AP)—Stock prices fluctuated within narrow limits at the opening of Thursday's market, failing to follow a clearly defined trend. Buying interest was at a low ebb although a few of the public utilities moved up under the leadership of public service of New Jersey, which was a point to a new high level. United States Steel moved fractionally higher, but American Can and Sears Roebuck reacted a point each.

Riding for various specialties later gave some stability to the market, although prices generally continued to drift within a trading area. American Agricultural Chemical Preferred advanced four points to a new high above 94 on reports of favorable trade conditions and probable action on back dividends. Pullman also reached a new top price at 174 and good exhibitions of strength were given by Western Union, International Telephone, United States Realty, American Brake Shoe and Oppenheim Collins.

Offsetting these gains were losses of one to two points in Remington Typewriter, Hudson Motors, Radio, Foundation Company.

Renewed weakness of the motors was disconcerting to bullish operators and realizing in other speculative issues causing later sympathetic recessions. Investment stocks, however, particularly the fire insurance and high priced equipment and public utility shares were buoyant. Continental Insurance and Fidelity Phoenix Insurance rose five points and McGraw-Hill, E. Railway Steel Springs, Western Union, and St. Louis and Oppenheim Collins 2 to 4. Their strength ultimately caused a cessation of selling elsewhere, the market again trending upward at noon. Call loans renewed at 4 1/2 per cent.

The closing was steady. Total sales approximated 1,600,000 shares.

SCHOOL BOARDS AND PRINCIPALS TO GET TOGETHER

Board Members Want Explanation of Curriculum of Junior Schools

Plans for a special meeting of the board of education, the district school boards and the principals of the junior high schools for the purpose of reviewing the junior high school curriculum were made at the regular monthly meeting of the board Wednesday afternoon at the office of Ben L. Rohan, superintendent of schools. Hugo Keller representing the Third ward on the board suggested the meeting, saying that he believed the board members should be better acquainted with the new curriculum. The plan is to have Mr. Rohan and the junior school heads explain the curriculum in use. The district treasurers also are to attend the meeting. The date of the meeting which is to be held at the high school, has not been set but it will be an evening session opened with a banquet in honor of Mrs. S. O. Shannon, who was elected to the board this week to succeed George H. Packard resigned.

SECOND WOMAN ON BOARD

Members present at the meeting were Mr. Rohan and Miss Carrie Morgan, secretary of the board. Mrs. Shannon, the First ward, Dr. Charles Reineck and A. S. Galpin, Second ward, L. Hugo Keller and Fred Morris Third ward, Axel Fahlsrom and John E. Hanschel, Fourth ward. Mrs. Shannon is the second woman on the local board of education. Miss M. M. Starnard was on the board some 30 years ago, according to records.

Dr. Reineck presided at the meeting in place of Mayor John Goodland, who is in Chicago on business. A report of the teachers and text committee which met at 11:30 Wednesday morning was read by Mr. Rohan and approved by the board. Changes in the junior high school courses for the second semester brought out the need of another instructor at Roosevelt school in Latin and mathematics and Miss Joan Mills of Appleton, who already is teaching at the school, added a class in Latin and another in mathematics to her work. She was given a $30 a month salary increase. The free dental clinic for deserving children of Appleton was explained at the committee meeting and it was reported that Appleton dental club will examine the children and send reports of their dental condition to their parents after which the parents can take steps to help the youngsters. The Kiwanis club, the city and the school board are backing the clinic.

A sum of $75 was voted to the McKinley school to make its coming dedication as complete as those of the other two junior schools which took place this fall and a sum of $50 was added to the Roosevelt school per capita fund.

13 MOTHERS GRANTED HELP FROM PENSION FUND

The county committee on mothers' pensions, consisting of David Hodson, Hortonville chairman, Charles Wendt, city of Kaukauna, and James Farrell, town of Kaukauna, held its regular monthly meeting in the county court room Wednesday to act on applications for mothers' pensions which had expired. Twelve applicants were given renewals of pension for another year and one new application was favorably acted upon. Three applicants were rejected. The pensions which the board may grant must not exceed $15 for the first child of a widow or $10 a child for the remainder of the family. In no case, however, may the total per family exceed $45. The amounts are determined according to the individual needs of each case. Some applicants entirely misinterpret the law according to Chairman Hodson. In one case a woman with property valued at $10,000 applied but she had to be refused as pensions may be given only to deserving persons.

Toughest of Old Hang-on Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight cold cough that lingers on and on with the most persistent devilishness then you need a real cough medicine—and the real destroyer of tough old coughs in Broncholine.

The cough may be so tantalizing that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that's just the kind of a cough that Broncholine likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months cough quit cold and disappear.

Life is sweet—it will be much sweeter when you get rid of that old time cough. Ask Union Pharmacy, Volz's Drug Store or any wideawake druggist for a bottle of Broncholine. There's no dope in it—or chloroform, and a couple of teaspoonfuls will usually end any ordinary cough.
